2025 CROP INCENTIVE PAYMENT

Dear Grower,

The payment for the 2025 crop for timely contracting and providing Strider information will be in your accounts tomorrow. Timely contracting and gathering Strider information is important on several levels for your Company and we appreciate your participation.

The factory has been running consistently all year; we are making progress in operations. We are still not satisfied with our extraction number and continue to work on finding losses. We still have 100,000 tons to slice and are looking to finish slice around the 10th of March. We have processed all the outside station beets. Of the remaining beets approximately 60% are over ventilation and we are feeling good about finishing strong. With the weather we have seen higher than normal sugar loss in the pile; however, overall beet quality has remained good. Given the circumstances we are in good shape. We are still on track to hit our projected budget and production numbers.

Beth and I have been diligently working to secure the 2024 pile loss grant from the USDA and barring another government shutdown this weekend we should have final approval next week. Please keep an eye out for communication from the Company regarding this benefit. It will require individual member contracts, so you will have to act to be able to receive the funds.

We are still in limbo regarding the Economic Aid package for the 2025 crop. I do not have a reliable update currently. I will be meeting with the other company CEOs in 10 days and hope to get some answers.

Please contact Kadan and Jacob to get your acres contacted. Right now, we are looking at a decrease in acres from last year. Through put is important to everyone's beet payment and we want to hit our 13,000-acre target to maximize the factory's capacity.

Respectfully,

Michael D. Greear
